

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

Business cards will be inserted in this column at the rate of $1.00 per line per month.

BOOKS.

BABY & GILBERT—Publishers, Books and Stationery. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky. Phone 100.

BUSINESS COLLEGES.

BOYD'S—National Business College, S.E. corner Jefferson and Second streets, Louisville, Ky.

CARRIAGES.

SPERRY—W. F. Carriage and Body Makers. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

CLOTHING.

SPERRY & HANDEL—Fine Clothing and Gent's Furnishings. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

COAL.

KENNEDY & CO.—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Coal. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

COMMISSION.

GAHANEY & CO.—Wholesale Grocers and Commission Merchants. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

DRUGS.

WILDER, E. & CO.—Wholesale Druggists. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

DYING GOODS.

BARKER & CO.—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Dyeing Goods. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

ENGRAVING.

HART & HART—All kinds of Print and Engraving. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

FURNITURE.

THE LOUISVILLE FURNITURE MANUFACTURING COMPANY—Furniture and Upholstery. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

FANCY GOODS.

SCOTT & HARRIS—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Fancy Goods. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

GROCERIES.

HERRICK & CO.—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Groceries. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

HATS—FURNISHING GOODS.

THE LOUISVILLE HAT MANUFACTURING COMPANY—Hats and Furnishings. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

HARDWARE.

MCNEIL & CO.—Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Hardware. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

INSURANCE.

KENNEL, HENRY & CO.—Insurance Agents. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

IRON WORKS.

MERRILL & CO.—Iron Works and Foundry. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

LIQUORS.

MCNEIL & CO.—Liquor Dealers. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

MATHEMATICAL.

SCOTT & HARRIS—Mathematical Instruments. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

MUSIC.

THE LOUISVILLE MUSIC COMPANY—Musical Instruments. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

PAINTS.

MCNEIL & CO.—Paint Dealers. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

PAPER DEALERS.

DEPONT & CO.—Paper Manufacturers and Dealers. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

REAL ESTATE.

BOYLE & HARRIS—Real Estate Agents. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

RESTAURANTS.

ST. CHARLES RESTAURANT—Fine Dining. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

STEAMBOAT AGENTS.

MCNEIL & CO.—Steamboat Agents. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

SADDLERY.

MCNEIL & CO.—Saddlery. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

SHOES.

MCNEIL & CO.—Shoe Dealers. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

UPHOLSTERY.

THE LOUISVILLE UPHOLSTERY MANUFACTURING COMPANY—Upholstery. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

WINE AND SPIRITS.

MCNEIL & CO.—Wine and Spirit Dealers. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

WITNESSES.

MCNEIL & CO.—Witnesses. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

WITNESSES.

MCNEIL & CO.—Witnesses. 100 West Main street, Louisville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 3 A. M.

Norman Lake Jr.—Matrimonially, the Falls City at this time more prosperous than any other burg west of the Alleghenies. Besides the consumption of almost innumerable unions between the fair and gallant ones of the metropolis there are daily arrivals from the interior, of happy wives and their retinues. Our hotel folks and society in general are kept in a continual flurry. As we have said above, there is nothing like it. This is November, and we rather suspect our young marriageable friends have been reading Norman Lake's.

On terrace a woman with a face that would have been a model for the sculptor. Her hair was a mass of golden curls, and her eyes were a deep, clear blue. She was dressed in a simple, elegant gown, and she looked as if she had just stepped out of a picture. She was standing on the terrace, looking out over the city, and she seemed to be in a world of her own.

At all events, to many of the 'lovers' this is the November of sweet content, made glorious by the love of the heart. The Willard Hotel is a famous resort for matrimonialists. Whether it is owing to the superior entertainment of the house, or to the handsome presence and urbane attentions of the junior proprietor, Mr. E. O. Benson, deponent saith not. Still, no one can deny the popularity of the Willard on this interesting score.

No less than four initial parties were quartered yesterday. Their names are as follows: Mr. A. B. Smith and lady of Louisville, Ky.; Mr. J. K. Jones and lady of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. W. L. Brown and lady of St. Louis, Mo.; and Mr. R. M. White and lady of New York, N. Y.

Mr. A. B. Smith and lady of Louisville, Ky. were the first to arrive. They were met by Mr. E. O. Benson, who showed them to their room. They were then taken to the dining room, where they were served a delicious dinner. After dinner, they were taken to the ballroom, where they danced the night away.

Mr. J. K. Jones and lady of Cincinnati, Ohio, were the second to arrive. They were met by Mr. E. O. Benson, who showed them to their room. They were then taken to the dining room, where they were served a delicious dinner. After dinner, they were taken to the ballroom, where they danced the night away.

Mr. W. L. Brown and lady of St. Louis, Mo., were the third to arrive. They were met by Mr. E. O. Benson, who showed them to their room. They were then taken to the dining room, where they were served a delicious dinner. After dinner, they were taken to the ballroom, where they danced the night away.

Mr. R. M. White and lady of New York, N. Y., were the fourth to arrive. They were met by Mr. E. O. Benson, who showed them to their room. They were then taken to the dining room, where they were served a delicious dinner. After dinner, they were taken to the ballroom, where they danced the night away.

Mr. E. O. Benson, the junior proprietor of the Willard Hotel, is a man of many talents. He is a skilled businessman, a good manager, and a kind host. He has made the Willard Hotel a famous resort for matrimonialists, and he has made it a place where many happy marriages have been made.

Mr. E. O. Benson is a man of many talents. He is a skilled businessman, a good manager, and a kind host. He has made the Willard Hotel a famous resort for matrimonialists, and he has made it a place where many happy marriages have been made.

Mr. E. O. Benson is a man of many talents. He is a skilled businessman, a good manager, and a kind host. He has made the Willard Hotel a famous resort for matrimonialists, and he has made it a place where many happy marriages have been made.

Mr. E. O. Benson is a man of many talents. He is a skilled businessman, a good manager, and a kind host. He has made the Willard Hotel a famous resort for matrimonialists, and he has made it a place where many happy marriages have been made.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

NOVEMBER TERM, SECOND DAY, 1898.

The Court, Hon. G. W. Johnson, presiding, met at the usual hour yesterday morning. Although there was but a half-day session, much important business was transacted.

John Perkins, indicted for having harbored a felon in his possession, was found guilty, and the jury assessed his term of imprisonment at eight years. The case in which the prisoner is charged with the murder of his wife was dismissed with leave to reinstate. Should he live out the term for which he stands convicted, his chances will be good for rendering the State several years more service.

Wm. Mitchell, for grand larceny, was sent up for three years. Another case against him was dismissed. A. J. Parker, charged with grand larceny, and with the possession of a stolen automobile, was found guilty, and the jury assessed his term of imprisonment at five years.

Commonwealth vs. Pat. Hughes, continued and capias. Commonwealth vs. O. Keefe & Walker, a note to A. W. Mitchell and M. J. Mitchell, was delivered to A. W. Mitchell. Commonwealth vs. Martin Shell (2 cases, defendant recognized in $200). John Shell bail.

Commonwealth vs. Jacob Moser, recognized in $200. Commonwealth vs. S. Boardman, recognized in $200. Charles S. Gay and Wm. T. Martin bail.

John T. Milburn, Esq., was sworn in as an attorney. George Hart was appointed special bailiff to summon witnesses and jurors during the present term of the Court.

The Court adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock this morning, when the following cases will come up for trial: Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

NOVEMBER TERM, SECOND DAY, 1898.

From seventeen cases of drunk and disorderly Monday in the Police Court, the number yesterday during the half-day session, and in that way they generally continue to decrease until by Saturday morning there are only one or two. But Monday morning again they break out in a fresh place. That stingy man a dozen, yesterday morning, were manipulated by stern justice in the usual manner, and they contributed toward the dissemination of sobriety, or the increase of "factured courage," according as their cheekbones were plethoric or not.

Michael Hart but H. Abel, Abel however being able to get out thereat proceeded to prosecute Hart for harboring him. The heart of the court was touched in favor of Abel, although Hart was duly defended. Hart was held in $100 to answer an assault and battery, and proceeded home to the heart of his family, which consists of Mrs. Hart and several small Harts, with a very heavy heart.

The man Matt Brady, who was accused of being a great thief for stealing a crate from Dennis Long, turned out to be only a small one, as would be inferred from the fact that he is not a large man, and was held to answer for petit larceny.

Wm. Gilliland James Bond were hooked in the gills, charged with bounding over the pale of property so far as to jump into and carry off a dog of somebody else's but the proof failed and they were discharged.

A number of peace warrants were disposed of, and the court went out to experiment upon the fluid that makes people act so strangely.

At 9 o'clock this morning, when the following cases will come up for trial: Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

NOVEMBER TERM, SECOND DAY, 1898.

From seventeen cases of drunk and disorderly Monday in the Police Court, the number yesterday during the half-day session, and in that way they generally continue to decrease until by Saturday morning there are only one or two. But Monday morning again they break out in a fresh place. That stingy man a dozen, yesterday morning, were manipulated by stern justice in the usual manner, and they contributed toward the dissemination of sobriety, or the increase of "factured courage," according as their cheekbones were plethoric or not.

Michael Hart but H. Abel, Abel however being able to get out thereat proceeded to prosecute Hart for harboring him. The heart of the court was touched in favor of Abel, although Hart was duly defended. Hart was held in $100 to answer an assault and battery, and proceeded home to the heart of his family, which consists of Mrs. Hart and several small Harts, with a very heavy heart.

The man Matt Brady, who was accused of being a great thief for stealing a crate from Dennis Long, turned out to be only a small one, as would be inferred from the fact that he is not a large man, and was held to answer for petit larceny.

Wm. Gilliland James Bond were hooked in the gills, charged with bounding over the pale of property so far as to jump into and carry off a dog of somebody else's but the proof failed and they were discharged.

A number of peace warrants were disposed of, and the court went out to experiment upon the fluid that makes people act so strangely.

At 9 o'clock this morning, when the following cases will come up for trial: Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

NOVEMBER TERM, SECOND DAY, 1898.

From seventeen cases of drunk and disorderly Monday in the Police Court, the number yesterday during the half-day session, and in that way they generally continue to decrease until by Saturday morning there are only one or two. But Monday morning again they break out in a fresh place. That stingy man a dozen, yesterday morning, were manipulated by stern justice in the usual manner, and they contributed toward the dissemination of sobriety, or the increase of "factured courage," according as their cheekbones were plethoric or not.

Michael Hart but H. Abel, Abel however being able to get out thereat proceeded to prosecute Hart for harboring him. The heart of the court was touched in favor of Abel, although Hart was duly defended. Hart was held in $100 to answer an assault and battery, and proceeded home to the heart of his family, which consists of Mrs. Hart and several small Harts, with a very heavy heart.

The man Matt Brady, who was accused of being a great thief for stealing a crate from Dennis Long, turned out to be only a small one, as would be inferred from the fact that he is not a large man, and was held to answer for petit larceny.

Wm. Gilliland James Bond were hooked in the gills, charged with bounding over the pale of property so far as to jump into and carry off a dog of somebody else's but the proof failed and they were discharged.

A number of peace warrants were disposed of, and the court went out to experiment upon the fluid that makes people act so strangely.

At 9 o'clock this morning, when the following cases will come up for trial: Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

NOVEMBER TERM, SECOND DAY, 1898.

From seventeen cases of drunk and disorderly Monday in the Police Court, the number yesterday during the half-day session, and in that way they generally continue to decrease until by Saturday morning there are only one or two. But Monday morning again they break out in a fresh place. That stingy man a dozen, yesterday morning, were manipulated by stern justice in the usual manner, and they contributed toward the dissemination of sobriety, or the increase of "factured courage," according as their cheekbones were plethoric or not.

Michael Hart but H. Abel, Abel however being able to get out thereat proceeded to prosecute Hart for harboring him. The heart of the court was touched in favor of Abel, although Hart was duly defended. Hart was held in $100 to answer an assault and battery, and proceeded home to the heart of his family, which consists of Mrs. Hart and several small Harts, with a very heavy heart.

The man Matt Brady, who was accused of being a great thief for stealing a crate from Dennis Long, turned out to be only a small one, as would be inferred from the fact that he is not a large man, and was held to answer for petit larceny.

Wm. Gilliland James Bond were hooked in the gills, charged with bounding over the pale of property so far as to jump into and carry off a dog of somebody else's but the proof failed and they were discharged.

A number of peace warrants were disposed of, and the court went out to experiment upon the fluid that makes people act so strangely.

At 9 o'clock this morning, when the following cases will come up for trial: Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

NOVEMBER TERM, SECOND DAY, 1898.

From seventeen cases of drunk and disorderly Monday in the Police Court, the number yesterday during the half-day session, and in that way they generally continue to decrease until by Saturday morning there are only one or two. But Monday morning again they break out in a fresh place. That stingy man a dozen, yesterday morning, were manipulated by stern justice in the usual manner, and they contributed toward the dissemination of sobriety, or the increase of "factured courage," according as their cheekbones were plethoric or not.

Michael Hart but H. Abel, Abel however being able to get out thereat proceeded to prosecute Hart for harboring him. The heart of the court was touched in favor of Abel, although Hart was duly defended. Hart was held in $100 to answer an assault and battery, and proceeded home to the heart of his family, which consists of Mrs. Hart and several small Harts, with a very heavy heart.

The man Matt Brady, who was accused of being a great thief for stealing a crate from Dennis Long, turned out to be only a small one, as would be inferred from the fact that he is not a large man, and was held to answer for petit larceny.

Wm. Gilliland James Bond were hooked in the gills, charged with bounding over the pale of property so far as to jump into and carry off a dog of somebody else's but the proof failed and they were discharged.

A number of peace warrants were disposed of, and the court went out to experiment upon the fluid that makes people act so strangely.

At 9 o'clock this morning, when the following cases will come up for trial: Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny. Charles Williams, alias Brown, larceny.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

The following corrections: It was not Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson, but Miss Gertrude, youngest daughter of Judge Franklin Olandine, the Rev. Wm. Johnson.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

NOVEMBER TERM, SECOND DAY, 1898.

From seventeen cases of drunk and disorderly Monday in the Police Court, the number yesterday during the half-day session, and in that way they generally continue to decrease until by Saturday morning there are only one or two. But Monday morning again they break out in a fresh place. That stingy man a dozen, yesterday morning, were manipulated by stern justice in the usual manner, and they contributed toward the dissemination of sobriety, or the increase of "factured courage," according as their cheekbones were plethoric or not.

Michael Hart but H. Abel, Abel however being able to get out thereat proceeded to prosecute Hart for harboring him. The heart of the court was touched in favor of Abel, although Hart was duly defended. Hart was held in $100 to answer an assault and battery, and proceeded

